

ENGAGEMENT FORMS

Informed Consent and Engagement of Services Forms for Those Wishing to Access *Case Management Services

Aftercare Recovery Support Services (ARSS)

Should you choose to engage ARSS case management services for your son or daughter, they will need to agree to access the services as well (if over 18). Advice or opinions rendered are based on the information provided by you, your son or daughter, the Treatment Center, previous testing and all providers contacted (with all Releases in place). There are no guarantees or warranties associated with the effectiveness of long-distance case management, but structure, availability of support and accountability are ingredients necessary for building a foundation for long-term success.

You also acknowledge that you are requesting such services, with time billed based on a “time spent” or “time reserved” basis (whether the time is used or not), according to the fee schedule below. Further, you realize that, to access any information, a Release must be in place at all times and that, if withdrawn, information may no longer be shared. If your son or daughter chooses to restrict information released to billing information only, this is all the information that may be released. Services may be cancelled at any time with 72 hour written notice.
